NOTICE.

INDIAN POLICE FORCE.

The Secretary of State for India in Council has decided not to hold any competitive examination, during the years 1919 and 1920, for admission into the Indian (Imperial) Police Service, but to make appointments by nomination as described below from among gentlemen who have rendered military service during the war.

2. Conditions of eligibility.—Selection will be confined to candidates who have rendered military service during the period of hostilities. Every candidate must also be a British subject of European descent, and at the time of his birth his father must have been a British subject, either natural born or naturalized in the United Kingdom. In cases of doubt whether a candidate satisfies these conditions, the decision of the Secretary of State for India in Council, and, where nomination is made in India, that of the Government of India, will be final. Candidates must have been born on or after the 2nd June 1894 and on or before the 1st August 1900, and must be unmarried. They must be certified by their Commanding Officers to be of good moral character and physically fit for service in India. They must have been educated up to a reasonable standard such as is normally required for Sandhurst and it may further be necessary to subject them to a qualifying educational test. A percentage of vacancies will probably be filled by appointment in India.

3. Medical examination.—Selected candidates will be required to undergo an examination by a medical board as to their physique and capacity for active out-door work in the plains of India. Instructions as to the date and time of this examination will be issued in due course.

4. Riding test.—Those who have passed the medical examination and satisfy the other requisite conditions will be appointed as probationers. They will then be examined as to their ability to ride, and will be required as hitherto to obtain before appointment—

(a) a certificate that they are able to ride well and perform journeys on horse back, or

(b) a certificate of minimum proficiency in riding.

In the latter case they will be subjected after appointment to such further test in riding as may be prescribed by their Government, and will not be appointed Assistant Superintendents of Police until they shall have passed such tests to the satisfaction of their Governments.

5. Allotment to Provinces.—Selected candidates who have successfully passed the aforementioned tests will be allotted, as probationers, to one or other province on a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes; but the requirements of the public service will rank before every other consideration. The allotment will also be subject to the right of the Government of India to make transfers between provinces if necessary.

6. Uniform, etc.—It is an ordinary condition of appointment to the Police Department that a probationer should provide himself with—

(a) either a uniform or the cost of it, and

(b) not less than £60 for the purchase of a horse and saddlery in India.

7. Free passages to India will be provided for candidates who are appointed in England, but any probationer resigning his appointment within three years on any ground but that of health, supported by a medical certificate, will be required to refund the cost of his passage.

8. Salary.—His Majesty's Secretary of State for India has been pleased to sanction revised rates of pay for officers of the Imperial Police of the rank of Deputy Inspector General and downwards with effect from the 1st January 1919. From that date onward there will be two scales of pay, a senior and a junior. Officers will draw pay in the senior or the junior scale according as they are holding superior appointments (i.e., Superintendents of Police and upwards) or not. The scales will be as follows:—

Years of service.	Junior scale. Rs. per mensem.	Senior scale. Rs. per mensem.	Years of service.	Junior scale. Rs. per mensem.	Senior scale. Rs. per mensem.	Years of service.	Junior scale. Rs. per mensem.	Senior scale. Rs. per mensem.

(b) Efficiency bar.—An officer who is not considered fit to hold charge of a first class district will not be allowed to rise above Rs. 1,100.

The scale for Deputy Inspectors-General of Police commences at Rs. 1,500 a month and rises to Rs. 2,000 by annual increments of Rs. 100.

Officers at present entitled to exchange compensation allowance will retain this right to draw the allowance whenever the rate of exchange renders it admissible again in the future.

9. Period of probation.—Probationers will be required to qualify by passing the necessary departmental examinations (as well as the riding test if necessary vide rule 4) within two years of their arrival in India or date of appointment if nominated in India.

10. Liability of probationers to removal.—Any probationer who may fail to pass the prescribed examinations within two years, or be found unfit for police duty, will be liable to removal from the service. Any probationer so removed from the service will be furnished with a free passage to England, provided he utilizes such passage within three months from the date of such removal.

11. Promotion after probation.—No probationer will be eligible for promotion, either acting or substantive, until he has passed the prescribed departmental examinations including the riding test.

12. Leave, pension, and provident fund.—Officers joining the Indian Police under these conditions will be eligible for leave and other concessions in accordance with the provisions of the Civil Service Regulations and other regulations which may be issued from time to time.

13. Articles of agreement.—Probationers will be required to sign articles of agreement, describing the terms and conditions of their appointment before the appointment is made.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY.

EMIGRATION.

Simla, the 9th May 1919.

No. 2754.—The following papers regarding reciprocity in matters of immigration between India and the Dominions are published for the information of those interested in the subject :—

Extract from a letter from the Colonial Office to the Under Secretary of State for India, India Office, No. 55892, dated London, the 7th August 1918, and annexures.

I am directed by Mr. Secretary Long to transmit to you, to be laid before Mr. Secretary Montagu, copies of an extract from the Fifteenth day's Proceedings at the Imperial Conference, together with copies of the memorandum prepared by Sir S. P. Sinha.

ANNEXURES.

Memorandum by Sir S. P. Sinha,

The views and recommendations of the Indian representatives on the position of Indians in the self-governing Dominions were placed before the War Conference last year in the form of a memorandum, which appears as an annexure to the printed report of the Conference. The subject was discussed on Friday the 27th April 1917, and the "Conference unanimously accepted the principle of reciprocity of treatment between India and the Dominions, and recommended the memorandum to the favourable consideration of the Governments concerned". It is mainly with a view to eliciting information as to whether any action has been actually taken, and, if not, how soon it is likely to be taken, by the Governments concerned to give effect to our suggestions that a few of the outstanding questions are mentioned in the present note.

2. The Indian grievances dealt with in the last memorandum fall conveniently under the following three groups :—

(1) Treatment of Indians who are already settled and resident in the self-governing Dominions.

(2) The difficulties and disadvantages of Indians intending to visit the Dominions not with the object of settlement but for purpose of travel, education or business

(3) The question of future immigration to the Dominions.

3. As regards the difficulties of resident Indians, the disability imposed on the Sikh settlers in Canada, numbering about 4,000 men, of not being allowed to bring their wives and minor children to live with them is a very real and serious hardship, and, as was pointed out in last year's note, has caused acute dissatisfaction amongst perhaps the most prominent martial race in India, and those who have flocked with the greatest alacrity to the Indian Army for the defence of the Empire. This unfair and unnatural prohibition is the more galling because the Indians resident in South Africa have, since the passing of the Indians Relief Act of 1914, the privilege of introducing into the Colony one wife, as well as her minor children. The Japanese have the right of taking not only their wives, but also their domestic servants. No further time should be lost in removing the prohibition, which appears to be in force in Australia also.

4. Of the Indians settled in the self-governing Dominions, by far the largest number is domiciled in South Africa. Cape Colony has an Indian population of 8,606, Transvaal of 10,048, Orange Free State of 106, and Natal, of 133,031 souls. The Indians Relief Act of 1914 has removed many disabilities, but from reliable materials placed before us it appears that there are still many substantial grievances and disabilities which are not merely of an administrative character, as General Smuts seemed to be under the impression last year, but are based upon already existing or impending statutory enactments.

The following would appear to be some of the principal grievances of South African Indians :—

(1) Trading Licences.—It is necessary to obtain a licence in order to be able to carry on any trade or business in South Africa. Each Province has its own trading licence legislation, and the tendency recently has been in every Province to transfer the control of licences from the Government to municipalities. Although there is a system of appeals from the decisions of the municipalities, e.g., in Natal to Town Councils or to Licensing Appeal Boards, the right of appeal to the Courts is extremely limited. Thus, in Natal, against refusals of application for new licences there is a right of appeal in matters of procedure, but not of facts, to the Provincial Division of the Supreme Court, whereas, in cases of refusal to renew licences there is a right of appeal on facts also. It is generally contended that the municipalities arbitrarily refuse to grant licences to Indians with the improper and indirect object of destroying Indian trade, and the Indian newspapers are full of such instances. The trading rights of Indians in South Africa are a vital issue. If the Indian community remains at the mercy of their European rivals in respect of the right of their members to earn an honest livelihood by trade it is only a question of time for the whole community to become impoverished and be reduced to industrial helotry. The remedy seems to be to give the fullest right of appeal in all cases of refusal of licences to the Provincial Division of the Supreme Court—on questions of fact as well as of procedure.

(2) Parliamentary and Municipal Franchise.—As observed in last year's note, there are stronger and more obvious grounds for extending the municipal franchise to the Indians resident in South Africa than the Parliamentary franchise. It might be pointed out, however, that we are nearer to the introduction of representative institutions in India this year than we were last year, and therefore the argument for depriving the African Indians of the franchise on the ground of their coming from a country where representative institutions do not exist will carry still less weight now, and there is a strong case for granting the franchise, at least to the richer Indian merchants. Their claim to the extension of the municipal franchise in all the States seems to be much stronger, as this right is enjoyed in Natal and Cape Colony, where some Indians are reported to be discharging municipal functions to their credit. The special necessity for the grant of the municipal franchise will appear from what has already been stated with regard to trade licences.

(3) The Ownership of land.—Unlike their compatriots in Natal and at the Cape, Transvaal Indians, under the old Republican Law 3 of 1885, remain under the disability that they are denied the right to own fixed property, i.e., from having the legal ownership registered in their own names. The system of indirect ownership, in other words nominal European ownership, originally suggested by the Republican Government themselves, prevailed until quite recently, and is still occasionally adopted. The process is roundabout, cumbrous, and expensive, but the facts are notorious, and the circumstances are legally recognized by the Courts.

Since about the year 1914, the practice has grown up of forming and registering, under the Transvaal Companies Act, 1909, small private companies, with limited liability, whose members are all Indians (frequently an Indian and his wife), and possessing an independent legal persona, for the purpose, amongst other things, of acquiring fixed property. All these transactions have recently received judicial recognition. It is said that attempts are now being made by interested parties to deprive Indians of this right of indirect ownership of fixed property. Recently a question was put on the subject in Parliament, and the Government spokesman replied that it was intended to examine into the question when the new companies law was under consideration. Advantage has frequently been taken by Indians of these indirect, but quite legal, methods to open business in townships whose private regulations prohibit the sale of stands to Indians, which, in themselves, are intended indirectly to compel Indians to reside and trade in special locations, which, again, would mean financial ruin to most of them, and against which attempt the Indian community has fought since long before the Boer War.

On the contrary, the prohibition against Indian ownership of fixed or landed property should be repealed by Parliament, on the grounds that it tends to foster insincerity on all sides, to deprive Indians of some of the elementary rights and responsibilities of citizenship, which are not denied even to the aboriginal natives and other non-Asiatic coloured people of the Provinces, and which are possessed by their compatriots in the coast Provinces, and especially in Natal, where the bulk of the Indian population of the Union is to be found. Transvaal Indians ought not to be compelled to regard themselves as possessing an inferior status, in this respect, to their compatriots resident in the coast Provinces, and such a statute as Law 3 of 1885 is an anachronism and opposed to the spirit of modern legislation.

(4) Railway Regulations.—In the Transvaal, for a number of years past, the policy of racial segregation has been enforced on the railways. Special legislation to that end was sought in 1910, but was strenuously opposed by the Indian community, with the result that certain regulations were eventually agreed to, embodied in the papers published in Blue Book [Cd. 5863] of 1910 (pages 102-5 and 114), at a time when the Indian community was in a relatively weak position, having its energies fully engaged in the passive resistance struggle, which was then at its height, and which left the community powerless effectively to resist further encroachments upon its liberties. But the arrangements therein referred to were of purely local application, and were not intended in any way to affect the position or diminish the rights of Indians in the other Provinces. Recently, however, regulations applicable throughout the Union have been published, some of which have already been withdrawn in deference to strong Indian opposition, whilst others remain, in spite of that opposition, not only embodying provisions contained in the old Transvaal arrangement, but going much farther, and extending to other Provinces of the Union a racial discrimination not hitherto known there. The Indian community, for a long period of years, has consistently fought against statutory discrimination based upon racial distinction. Segregation in travelling would only be tolerable if designed by statute, where exactly equal opportunities and facilities were provided for the different races affected. This is impossible for financial reasons, no such remedy is available. Apart from this, the situation in the Transvaal, and in South Africa generally, is very different from what it was in 1910, and less than ever are Indians disposed to depart from the principle of equality under the law, which they regard as fundamental in the British Constitution, and for which they have suffered enormously in the past, and are prepared to suffer for again. Not only ought the position of Indians elsewhere in the Union not be reduced to the level of that in the Transvaal, but the latter should be raised to the highest level anywhere in the Union.

The settlement of these and other outstanding difficulties should receive the earnest attention of the Provincial Governments and the Union Government. It should not be forgotten that the bulk of the Indian settlement in South Africa is the result of the action of the South Africans themselves, and Natal, where the majority are domiciled, owes much of its prosperity to Indian labour. "The whole of Durban was absolutely built up by the Indian population," said Sir Leige Hewlett, ex Prime Minister of Natal in 1903. In his farewell speech at Pretoria in November 1912, Mr. Gokhale appealed to the European community in the following words: "You have all the power, and yours, therefore, is the responsibility for the manner in which the affairs of this land are administered. You owe it to your good name, you owe it to your civilization, you owe it to the Empire of which you are a part and whose flag stands for opportunities, for progress for all who live under its protection, that your administration should be such that you can justify it in the eyes of the civilized world." This noble exhortation points to an angle of vision which is much nearer reality to-day than it was in Mr. Gokhale's time, and after the promise of "peaceful and statesmanlike" solution made by General Smuts last year there should really be no difficulty now. In order to enable the Union Government to deal with Indian problems impartially and promptly, the provision of a convenient agency by which Indian grievances can be brought to the notice of the local Government authorities would be a first step. The appointment of a local agent of the Indian Government at Pretoria should be an advantage both to the Indians in South Africa and the South African Government which has to deal with them.

5. For the group of questions relating to facilities for travel, education, or business, it is clear that it should be easy to arrive at a liberal and satisfactory solution almost immediately.

The present position is that the Dominion laws allow persons with good credentials to enter on temporary visits, in Canada as "tourists," and elsewhere by special permits, which presumably are granted in the Dominion concerned. For instance, Australian Circular No. 31 of August 1904, lays down "that any persons bona fide merchants, students, and tourist travellers, provided they are in possession of passports, may be admitted. On arrival in the Commonwealth the education test in their cases will not be imposed, and such persons are to be permitted to land without restriction, but, in the event of their wishing to stay longer than twelve months an application for a certificate of exemption should be made before the expiry of the term stating reason for extended stay."

In the case of bona fide students intending to study at any of the Australian Universities, the above requirement of special certificate of exemption appears to be quite unnecessary. The question of the Indian student problem in Australasia has assumed special importance, because at the present moment most of the Western world is practically almost shut out from Indian students, and will be for some time after the war, on account of the great rise of the cost of living and other causes. Australian Universities are out of the war zone and comparatively cheap, and the Indian student is poor, and the West Australian University is only about nine-and-a-half days from Colombo.

6. Finally, as regards the question of future emigration of Indians to the Colonies for purposes of settlement, there is no change from the position which was taken up last year, that in this matter the Indian British subjects have a right to expect that they should not receive a less favourable treatment than other Asiatic people who are not subjects of the British Empire. But this question is not of any immediate urgency for India, and might well wait future discussion.

On one side we are being pressed to give practical effect to the resolution of last year's Conference.

7. It is only necessary, in conclusion, to emphasise the necessity of definite action and a forward advance in these matters without any more delay. "I do not lose a due sense of proportion," says the Aga Khan in his recent book, 'India in Transition,' 'when I say that one of the deeper causes if not of discontent or disaffection, at any rate of the distrust of England and Englishmen that appeared on the surface in India of recent years was the strained relationship between Indians and their white fellow-subjects in East Africa. A rankling sense of injustice was aroused by the reservation of the best lands for Europeans, and by a succession of ordinances and regulations based on an assumption of race inferiority. It must be remembered that such a state of injured feeling evokes a subconscious spirit which, in a few decades, may lead to results out of all proportion in importance to the original causes.' If the Indian representatives did not press this aspect of the question last year it is not because they did not realise their force or importance, but because they felt that the sympathetic attitude of the overseas Ministers made it unnecessary for any special emphasis to be laid on the racial aspect of these questions. A most excellent start was made last year and the impression created in India was most favourable. It would be a thousand pities if steps were not now taken to give effect and tangible shape to the good understanding and mutual comprehension attained last year. It is also obvious that these important questions should be settled not in any petty huckstering spirit of reciprocity only, far less of militant animosity and retaliation, but on those broad principles of justice and equality which are now more than ever the guiding principles of the British Empire, and which must be the foundations of the mighty Empire round the shores of the Pacific and the Indian Ocean which are slowly but surely rising before one's eyes.

Extract from Proceedings of Imperial War Conference, dated 24th July 1918.

CHAIRMAN: Mr. Hughes cannot come this morning, and Sir Robert Borden is away. The first subject on the agenda is Reciprocity of Treatment between India and the Dominions, on which there is a memorandum by Sir Satyendra Sinha, which has been circulated, and also a draft resolution, which I understand is the result of a meeting at the India Office. Shall I read the draft resolution as the basis of discussion?

Sir S. P. SINHA: As you please, Sir.

CHAIRMAN: The resolution is as follows:—

"The Imperial War Conference is of opinion that effect should now be given to the principle of reciprocity approved by Resolution 42 of the Imperial War Conference, 1917. In pursuance of that resolution it is agreed that—

"(1) It is an inherent function of the Governments of the several communities of the British Commonwealth, including India, that each should enjoy complete control of the composition of its own population by means of restriction on immigration from any of the other communities.

"(2) British citizens domiciled in any British country, including India, should be admitted into any other British country for visits, for the purpose of pleasure or commerce, including temporary residence for the purpose of education. The conditions of such visits should be regulated on the principle of reciprocity, as follows:—

"(a) The right of the Government of India is recognised to enact laws which shall have the effect of subjecting British citizens domiciled in any other British country to the same conditions in visiting India as those imposed on Indians desiring to visit such country.

"(b) Such right of visit or temporary residence shall, in each individual case, be embodied in a passport or written permit issued by the country of domicile and subject to use there by an officer appointed by and acting on behalf of the country to be visited, if such country so desires.

"(c) Such right shall not extend to a visit or temporary residence for labour purposes or to permanent settlement.

"(3) Indians already permanently domiciled in the other British countries should be allowed to bring in their wives and minor children on condition (a) that not more than one wife and her children shall be admitted for each such Indian, and (b) that each individual so admitted shall be certified by the Government of India as being the lawful wife or child of such Indian.

"(4) The Conference recommends the other questions covered by the memoranda presented this year and last year to the Conference by the representatives of India, in so far as not dealt with in the foregoing paragraphs of this resolution, to the various Governments concerned with a view to early consideration."

Sir S. P. SINHA: Mr. Long, I am desired by my colleague, the Maharaja of Patiala, who is unfortunately prevented from being present to-day, to express his entire concurrence in what I am going to say to the Conference. I also regret exceedingly the absence of Sir Robert Borden, because I wanted to express in his presence my deep feeling of gratitude for the generous and sympathetic spirit in which he has treated the whole question, both last year and this year. I desire to express my gratitude to him for the very great assistance he has rendered, to which I think the satisfactory solution which has been reached is very largely due—that is, if the Conference accepts the resolution which I have the honour to propose.

Sir, the position of Indian immigrants in the Colonies has been the cause of great difficulties, both in the Dominions themselves and particularly in my own country, India. As long ago as 1897, the late Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, in addressing the Conference of Colonial Premiers, made a stirring appeal on behalf of the Indians who had emigrated to the Dominions. The same appeal was made in 1907 by Mr. Asquith, and in 1911. During all this time India was not represented at the Conference, and it is only due to the India Office here to say that they did all they could to assist us. In 1911, the Marquess of Crewe, as Secretary of State for India, presented a memorandum to the Conference, which is printed in the proceedings for that year, and I cannot do better than just read one of the passages from that memorandum, which shows the nature of the difficulties which had arisen and the solutions which had been proposed on behalf of the Secretary of State. The memorandum presented by the Secretary of State says this:—

"It does not appear to have been thoroughly considered that each Dominion owes responsibility to the rest of the Empire for ensuring that its domestic policy shall not unnecessarily create embarrassment in the administration of India.

"It is difficult for statesmen who have seen Indians represented only by manual labourers and petty traders to realise the importance to the Empire as a whole of a country with some three hundred million inhabitants, possessing ancient civilizations of a very high order, which has furnished and furnishes some of the finest military material in the world to the Imperial forces, and which offers the fullest opportunities of financial and commercial enterprise. It is difficult to convey to those who do not know India the intense and natural resentment felt by veterans of the Indian Army, who have seen active service and won medals under the British flag, and who have been treated by their British officers with the consideration and courtesy to which their character entitles them, when (as has actually happened) they find themselves described as 'coolies', and treated with contemptuous severity in parts of the British Empire. Matters like this are, of course, very largely beyond the power of any Government to control, but popular misunderstandings are such a fruitful source of mischief that it seems worth while to put on record the grave fact that a radically false conception of the real position of India is undoubtedly rife in many parts of the Empire.

"The immigration difficulty, however, has, on the whole, been met by a series of statutes which succeed in preventing Asiatic influx without the use of differential or insulting language. It is accepted that the Dominions shall not admit as permanent residents people whose mode of life is inconsistent with their own political and social ideals.

"But the admission of temporary visitors, to which this objection does not apply, has not yet been satisfactorily settled. If the question were not so grave, it would be seen to be ludicrous that regulations framed with an eye to coolies should affect ruling princes who are in subordinate alliance with His Majesty, and have placed their troops at his disposal, members of the Privy Council of the Empire, or gentlemen who have the honour to be His Majesty's own Aides-de-Camp. It is, of course, true that no person of such distinguished position would, in fact, be turned back if he visited one of the Dominions. But these Indian gentlemen are known to entertain very strongly the feeling that, while they can move freely in the best society of any European capital, they could not set foot in some of the Dominions without undergoing vexatious catechisms from petty officials. At the same time, the highest posts in the Imperial service in India are open to subjects of His Majesty from the Dominions.

"The efforts of the British Government to create and foster a sense of citizenship in India have, within the last few years, undoubtedly been hampered by the feeling of soreness caused by the general attitude of the Dominions towards the peoples of India. The loyalty of the great mass of Indians to the Throne is a very conspicuous fact, and it is noteworthy that this feeling is sincerely entertained by many Indian critics of the details of British administration. The recent constitutional changes have given the people of the country increased association with the Government, and have at the same time afforded Indians greater opportunities of bringing to the direct notice of Government their views on the wider question of the place of India in the Empire. The gravity of the friction between Indians and the Dominions lies in this, that on the Colonial question, and on that alone, are united the seditious agitators, and the absolutely loyal representatives of moderate Indian opinion."

This, Sir, was in 1911, three years before the war; and if the position was correctly described then, you will conceive with how much greater strength the same observations apply to the present position as between India and the Dominions. Of course, since 1911, so far as South Africa is concerned, many practical grievances which then existed have, I gratefully acknowledge, been removed, but there are still many others outstanding. These are referred to in the memorandum which has been circulated to the Conference, and I trust my friends Mr. Burton and General Smuts, to whose statesmanship South Africa, including all its inhabitants, owes so much, will be able, on their return to their own country, in process of time to remove all, or at any rate some, of the grievances to which I refer. I recognize that it is a matter of time. I recognize their desire to remove those grievances, in so far as they are grievances, and I appreciate the difficulties of getting any legislation through their own Parliaments for that purpose; but at the same time I hope the matter will not be lost sight of, and that an early consideration will be given to matters which have not been the subject of agreement between us on this occasion.

But, Sir, so far as the outstanding difficulty of India is concerned, I am happy to think that the resolution which I now propose before the Conference, if accepted, will get rid of that which has caused the greatest amount of trouble both in Canada and in India. There are now about 4,000 or 5,000—I think nearer 4,000 than 5,000—Indians in the Dominion of Canada, mostly in British Columbia, I think, in fact, all in British Columbia; and the great difficulty of their position—a difficulty which is appreciated in India—is that these men are not allowed to take their wives and children with them. Now the Resolution, in paragraph 3, removed this difficulty—that is to say, if it is accepted and given effect to—and I consider that that will cause the greatest satisfaction to my countrymen, and particularly to that great community of Sikhs, who have furnished the largest number of soldiers during the war, and to whom these 4,000 men in Canada belong.

The principle of reciprocity, which was accepted by the Conference on the last occasion, is again referred to with approval, and effect is to be given to it immediately as regards some of the most urgent matters concerned.

I have read from Lord Crewe's Memorandum, Sir, the ludicrous position which now exists with regard to Indians of position visiting the Dominions. That position will be altogether altered if the Conference accepts the second part of the resolution which I propose—namely, that "British citizens domiciled in any British country, including India, should be admitted into any other British country for visits," and that the system of passports now in existence be continued, which would prevent any influx of undesirable labour population.

I think that, as the whole matter has been before the Conference so long it would not be right for me to take up the time of the Conference further. I venture to think that if this resolution is accepted, it will solve many of the most acute difficulties which have arisen between the Dominions and India; and, speaking for India, I can assure you that it will cause the greatest satisfaction, and will help us to allay the agitation which, particularly at a time like this, is a source of grave embarrassment. That is all I have to say, Sir.

Mr. ROWELL: There are just one or two observations I would like to make, Mr. Chairman. May I say how sincerely Sir Robert Borden regrets that he could not be here this morning, when this question was coming up before the Conference for consideration. He has personally taken a very keen interest in the question, and I am sure he will appreciate the very kind references which the representatives of India have made to his attitude in endeavouring to find a solution of the difficulties which have existed for many years between India and the Dominions in connexion with this very important problem.

The Resolution as submitted is accepted by Canada. We have had several Conferences in reference to the various matters raised, and the terms of the Resolution represent an understanding arrived at by India and the Dominions in connexion with the important matters dealt with in the Resolution. We look upon it as a matter of importance that the principle implied in the first paragraph of the Resolution should be frankly recognized by all the communities within the British Empire. We recognize that there are distinctions in racial characteristics, and in other matters, which make it necessary that, while we fully recognize the principle of reciprocity, each should exercise full control over its own population. The other paragraphs of the Resolution give effect to the proposals which have been discussed before the Committee, and give effect in such a way as I am sure we all hope will meet the general approval of the citizens of the Dominions and of India, as well as of the other portions of the Empire. We are glad to be able to remove the grounds of objection which India has felt, particularly with reference to the liberty of the Indians resident in Canada to bring their wives and minor children to Canada; but it was felt that this matter could not be dealt with except as part of the whole problem and it is in connexion with the solution of the whole problem that this forms an important part.

I think the number of Sikhs in Canada is not quite so large as Sir Satyendra has mentioned. While there was this number at one time, I think a number have returned to India, and the number is not now as large. I am sure we all appreciate the splendid qualities which the Sikhs have shown in this war, and the magnificent contribution which that portion of India particularly has given to the fighting forces of the Empire, and I am sure it would have been a matter of gratification to us all if Sir Robert Borden could have been here when this important matter was being dealt with by the Conference. I am sure the effect of the passing of this Resolution will be to draw together the Dominions and India into closer bonds of sympathy, and to help to cement the bonds that bind our whole Empire together as a unit for great national purposes—for those great, humane, and Imperial purposes for which our Empire exists.

CHAIRMAN: Mr. Cook, do you desire to say anything on this?

Mr. COOK: No, I think not, Sir.

Mr. MASSEY: I am very glad that this solution of the difficulty is arrived at. So far as New Zealand is concerned, there is no serious difficulty. We have very, very few Indians in New Zealand, and so far as I know, the people of India have never shown any tendency to emigrate to New Zealand. I simply state the fact—I am not able to explain the reason. The objections, I understand, have come mostly from Canada and South Africa, and I am very glad indeed, from what has been said, to learn that those objections have been removed. Of course, we shall have the administration of the law in so far as it does apply to New Zealand, but I do not anticipate any difficulty there, and I think what has been done to-day not only removes the present difficulties, such as they are, but will prevent serious difficulty occurring in the future. I value the Resolution on that account really more than on any other. Though New Zealand, as I have said, is not seriously interested in this matter—I have no doubt if Indians had come to New Zealand, and in considerable numbers, objections would have been raised, and it would have been the duty of the Government to take the matter in hand. That, however, has not taken place.

I should like to learn from Sir Satyendra Sinha whether this will affect Fiji in any way. Fiji is a neighbour of ours, and most of our sugar is produced there. It is not refined there, but is sent to Australia for refining purposes. I understand a very large number—I am not going into details, but I believe about 50,000 Indians are employed in Fiji at the present time in the production of sugar. I simply ask the question because the point is likely to be raised as to whether it will affect them.

Sir S. P. SINHA: In no way.

Mr. MASSEY: I am very glad to hear it. I hope as far as Fiji labour is concerned that even in Fiji some satisfactory solution of the difficulty will be arrived at in connexion with that dependency of the Empire. I know there is a little friction—not serious, but a little—but as far as I can understand the position—I do not profess to know the whole details—the difficulties are not insurmountable.

Sir S. P. SINHA: The difficulties are of a different nature. I hope they have been practically solved.

Mr. MASSEY: That is all I wish to say, Sir.

Mr. Burton: The matters which were raised by Sir Satyendra Sinha and the Maharaja in connexion with this question present, I suppose, some of the most difficult and delicate problems which we have had to deal with, and which it is our duty as statesmen to attempt to solve satisfactorily if the British Empire is to remain a healthy organization. I am sure we all feel as far as we are concerned—I have told Sir Satyendra myself that my own attitude has been, and I am sure it is the attitude of my colleagues—sympathetic towards the Indian position generally. There are, of course, difficulties, and it would be idle to disguise the fact that many of these difficulties are of substantial importance, which have to be faced in dealing with this matter. But I do not despair of satisfactory solutions being arrived at.

Sir Satyendra Sinha has been good enough to refer to the attitude adopted by Canada and ourselves in discussing this matter in Committee, and I think it is only right from our point of view to add that the possibility of our arriving at a satisfactory solution on this occasion has been due very largely indeed to the reasonable and moderate attitude which the Indian representatives themselves have adopted. But for that, of course, the difficulties would have been ever so much greater. As far as we are concerned, it is only fair to say—and it is the truth—that we have found that the Indians in our midst in South Africa, who form in some parts a very substantial portion of the population, are good, law-abiding, quiet citizens, and it is our duty to see, as he himself expressed it, that they are treated as human beings, with feelings like our own, and in a proper manner.

As to the details, I need not go into all of them. Paragraph No. 3 embodies, as a matter of fact, the present law of the Union of South Africa. That is our position there, so that our agreement as to that is no concession. I pointed out to Sir Satyendra when we were in Committee that in some of these points which he brought up as affecting South Africa I thought in all probability, if he were in a position to investigate some of them himself, he would find that perhaps the complaints had been somewhat exaggerated. I cannot help feeling that that is the case, but I will not go into these matters now. As far as we are concerned in South Africa, we are in agreement with this Resolution, and also with the proposal referring the memorandum to the consideration of our Government, and we will give it the most sympathetic consideration that we can, certainly.

Mr. Lloyd: This is not a matter which directly affects Newfoundland, but I should like to express my satisfaction that some solution has been found, and also to express the feelings which have already been given utterance to by South Africa with regard to the reasonable and moderate attitude of India.

Sir Joseph Ward: Mr. Long, this is a development in connexion with the Empire that I regard as one of the very greatest importance. At the last Conference we made a move in the direction of meeting the wishes of India, and this Resolution now, embodying the results arrived at by the Committee which has been inquiring into this matter, carries the matter, I think rightly so, a good deal further. And I think it is a move in the right direction. The underlying recognition of the right of the overseas communities to control their own populations within their own territories is one as to which no recommendation from this Conference, if it were made in the opposite direction, could have the least effect within any portion of the British Empire, and in that respect it is laying down a foundation upon which I regard the whole of these proposals as being based.

I think the important factor in connexion with it is this. All our countries, at all events New Zealand, have in the past, from causes or reasons one need not specially refer to, viewed with some alarm the possibility, as they thought, of large numbers of Indians coming to them and becoming factors in making calls that would disturb, interfere with, or change the course of employment for instance, and I think that that first proposal is one that would be met by every reasonable person in our country with strongest approval.

I want to take the opportunity of saying that sub-clause (c) of the second paragraph of this draft Resolution—"Such right shall not extend to a visit or temporary residence for labour purposes or to permanent settlement"—completely meets the position that a good many people have had difficulties about, and I assume the Indian representatives are just as familiar with them as we are.

Upon the question of the introduction—although I have nothing to do with it as a representative here—of the wives of these men who have been admitted into Canada, that is, in my opinion, not only a wise thing to do, but on the highest grounds possible, and moral grounds among other things, it seems to be a legitimate corollary to what the Canadian Dominion have done with regard to the 4,000 or 5,000 men who are there.

And I want to say with regard to the memorandum which has been placed before us by the Indian representatives on those several matters, that as far as I am concerned I have read the memorandum very carefully this morning, and I shall be glad, at the proper time, to give the matters referred to the fullest consideration in our country.

Mr. Montagu: Mr. Long, may I just detain the Conference one minute to express, on behalf of the Government of India and my colleagues, our gratitude for the way in which this resolution has been received at this meeting of the Conference. Sir Joseph Ward has rightly said that this resolution takes the question a good deal further. I emphasise that by way of caution and I hope I shall not be charged with ingratitude when I say it would not be fair to the Conference to regard this resolution as a solution of all outstanding questions. Many of them can only be cured by time. Many of them, as Mr. Burton has said require careful study.

But I feel sure that the spirit in which the resolution has been met, and the whole attitude which the representatives of the various dominions have taken towards it, will prove to India that as matters progress, and as time advances, there is every prospect that Indians throughout the Empire will be treated not only as human beings, but will have all the rights and privileges of British citizens.

Mr. COOK: Mr. Long, may I just say one word, lest my silence should be misunderstood. As my friends know, I attended the Committee meeting yesterday, and concurred in these proposals here, and the reason I do not occupy the time of the Conference is because there is nothing specifically relating to Australia in them. That is to say, many of the things referred to in this memorandum are concessions which have already been agreed to in Australia very many years ago, even with regard to the bringing of the wives and minor children. I do not think there is any trouble in Australia about that. Whatever the technical difficulties may be, I do not think there is trouble occurring along those lines. At any rate, I am one of those who believe that when we admit a man to our shores we should admit his wife also and his family, and if we are not prepared to admit his wife and family, we have no right to admit him. It seems to me that is among the elementary things. I concur entirely with the proposal in that respect, but that being the only outstanding feature of the proposal which can in the remotest degree affect Australia, I will not take up time in discussing the matter, but agree cordially with what has been suggested and what has been done. I think we owe a great debt of gratitude to India for the attitude she has taken since the war began. That is the feeling in Australia through and through—one of the most profound and cordial appreciation of the attitude of India in regard to this war.

Mr. MASSEY: It is the feeling all over the Empire.

CHAIRMAN: Perhaps I may be allowed to say a word in putting the Resolution. It will only be a very brief one. Last year the Conference was specially marked by the addition to our councils of the representatives of India, and I think we all feel that that made the Conference more complete and more real than it ever claimed to be before. This year sees another steady step forward, and I am bound to say that I think, having followed these proceedings very closely—I had the privilege to be present at the meeting which the Prime Minister of Canada was good enough to summon last year, when Sir Satyendra put the general case before us, and I think you will agree that that was a very useful meeting and started us in the direction which has been consistently followed since.—I think this steady advance is due, as has been said, not only to the wise, moderate, and extremely able line taken by Sir Satyendra and his colleagues—last year it was Sir James Meston and the Maharaja of Bikanir who represented India, while this year it is the Maharaja of Patiala—but also to the very statesmanlike view which has been taken of their responsibilities by those who speak on behalf of the great self-governing Dominions of the Empire. And certainly I rejoice more than I can say to see this evidence of the steady progress of the Empire along those lines which have been always followed in the past, and which, I believe, have made the Empire what it is—the recognition of fundamental principles, and a steady refusal to deny to any citizen of the Empire the privileges of Empire simply because of the accident of birth or locality. I regard this as a very important decision. On behalf of the Conference, I may perhaps be allowed to offer my congratulations to those who represent India and the Dominions upon this very considerable step in the development of our Empire. May I put the resolution?

Mr. ROWELL: May I add one word? It is simply that I desire to associate Canada and myself with the remarks which Mr. Burton made with reference to the very reasonable and statesmanlike attitude of the representatives of India in dealing with this matter. The resolution which embodies the understanding arrived at is, perhaps, the best evidence of our appreciation on the one hand, and of their recognition on the other.

CHAIRMAN: I ought to say that Sir Robert Borden sent me a communication yesterday, expressing a great desire that this should be taken when he was present, and we did our best to arrange matters; but I need not point out to the Conference that unless we are able to take the subjects as they are put down, it is almost impossible to get our business properly forward, or to complete it, within the time at our disposal.

Mr. MASSEY: I hope we shall finish this week.

CHAIRMAN: That is what we are working for, of course. May I put this to the Conference?

(The resolution was carried unanimously.)

REVENUE NOTIFICATIONS

PREPARATION OF A LIST OF CHARITABLE ENDOWMENTS AND TRUSTS, MADRAS DISTRICT.

It is hereby notified for the information of the public that in order to render more effective the control over charitable endowments and trusts vested in the Board of Revenue by the Madras Endowments and Escheats Regulation of 1817, the Government have ordered the preparation of a list of such endowments and trusts in the City of Madras. A Deputy Tahsildar assisted by a staff of Revenue Inspectors has been appointed for the purpose; his office as in the Collector's office buildings, North Beach Road, Madras. All persons interested in the maintenance of charities other than those directly connected with worship in temples, mosques or churches are hereby invited to lodge with the said officer information respecting charitable endowments whose existence is within their knowledge describing the purposes for which the endowment was made and the properties constituting it. Purely religious endowments are outside the scope of this inquiry, as stated above. As persons directly entrusted with the maintenance of charities may sometimes be disinclined to furnish information about them it is hoped that the public in their own interests will co-operate actively in the compilation of the list and so enable the object of Government to be achieved.

Madras Collector's Office,
23rd June 1919.

A. TOTTENHAM,
Collector.

Malabar Collector's Office,

Acting Collector.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 13.—In virtue of the powers delegated under clause XI of Government notification No. 824, dated 13th July 1892, published on pages 1203 and 1204 of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated 20th September 1892, Part I, and in supersession of Board's notification No. 7, dated 8th July 1918, the Commissioner of Salt, Abkari and Separate Revenue hereby prescribes the following rules for the issue, etc., of licences under section 12 of the Madras Abkari Act I of 1886, for the tapping of toddy-producing trees and for the drawing of toddy therefrom, to have effect in the following local areas from the 1st day of October 1919:—

(1) The whole of the ordinary tracts of the Ganjam, Vizagapatam and Godavari districts and in the Agency tracts of the last two districts the villages specified in Schedule I annexed.

(2) The rest of the Presidency with the exception of the Nilgiri district and the Wynad taluk, Anjengo, Tangasseri and the Attappadi valley of the Malabar district.

(3) The Banganapalle State.

2. Tree-tapping licences shall be issued on the application—

(a) of licensed toddy shopkeepers in areas in which the toddy shops are sold by auction or licensed separately;

(b) of persons having the exclusive privilege of manufacture and supply of account toddy arrack as foreign liquor;

(c) of tappers on their own application in the South Kanara district, provided that the application for licence is accompanied by an application for a permit for the transport of the toddy drawn to some particular shop and that the latter application is countersigned or acknowledged to be correct by the shopkeeper to whose shop the toddy is to be taken;

(d) of tree-owners generally, and of sweet-toddy tappers in the Godavari district in the Narasapur, Bhimavaram, Tanuku, Ellore and Yernagudem taluks of the Kistna district and in the Repalle and Bapatla taluks of the Guntur district for not more than five trees in the case of tree-owners and three trees in the case of sweet-toddy tappers, for the drawing of toddy required for domestic consumption, but not for sale;

(e) of toddy shopkeepers or renters in the Mysore territory and in the Banganapalle State desiring to obtain toddy from trees growing in British territory;

(f) of toddy shopkeepers in the Pudukkottai State desiring to obtain toddy from trees in British territory provided that the application is certified or countersigned by the Salt and Abkari Inspector of the State; and

(g) of any member of a hill tribe whether a tree-owner or not, residing in any of the villages of the Vizagapatam district specified in Schedule II, for not more than five trees for each household for domestic consumption but not for sale.

In cases (a), (b), (d) and (e) the licences may be issued in the name of the applicant himself or of his nominee, and in cases (c), (f) and (g) in the name of the applicant only.

3. Persons wishing to apply for the grant of tree-tapping licences must first pay the fees (or the first instalment thereof, as the case may be) due on account of the trees which they desire to tap, into a Government treasury, which may be either the District treasury, a Taluk treasury or a Salt treasury. Divisional officers may also empower heads of villages to receive payments on account of tree-tax and to grant receipts therefor. Pudukkottai renters when applying for trees in British territory must pay the full tree-tax into a British treasury at the rates prevailing in British territory.

4. (1) Applications for the grant of tree-tapping licences must be made in the prescribed form to the Inspector, Salt, Abkari and Customs Department, in charge of the circle in which the trees are situated. Forms may be obtained from the Inspectors of Salt, Abkari and Customs Department, and from all Tahsildars and Deputy Tahsildars and will be supplied free of charge. Applications put in by shopkeepers and tappers need not be stamped; those put in by other persons must bear a court-fee stamp of one anna. In any case, if the fees have been paid into a treasury, the application must contain a certificate of payment from the treasury officer; if payment has been made to a village head the receipt must accompany the application. Mysore renters and shopkeepers applying for trees in British territory should pay the tree-tax into the Mysore Amildar's treasury and should present before the British Tahsildar or Deputy Tahsildar concerned along with the application in form T.T. 8, the receipt with the Amildar's certificate at the foot to the effect that the applicant is a person entitled to take out a tree-tapping licence in Mysore. The tree-tax should be calculated at the higher rate if the rates are not the same on the two sides of the frontier.

(2) Applications for tree-tapping licences in the South Kanara district should be countersigned by the owner of the trees intended to be marked, in token of his consent.

5. Toddy shopkeepers in tracts adjoining the Mysore territory will also be allowed to tap trees in Mysore for the supply of toddy to their shops on payment of the whole of the tree-tax in one instalment into the British treasuries and subject to such restrictions regarding permits, etc., as may be prescribed in this behalf. The rate of tree-tax to be paid in such cases will invariably be the higher rate in force if the rate is not the same on the two sides of the frontier.

6. The British and Mysore Governments reserve to themselves the right to impose, in addition to the tree-tax, a rent for the use of trees belonging to them, the same when imposed being payable by British and Mysore licensees alike. The arrangements agreed to by the Madras and the Mysore Governments with regard to the issue of licences for tapping trees in either territory on the application of farmers or shopkeepers in the other do not prevent the reservation of trees in any specified area in the Madras Presidency or in Mysore with a view to afford rest thereto or for other sufficient reason and the mere payment of tree-tax into a British or Mysore treasury does not entitle an applicant to tapping licences for trees so reserved.

6. Toddy shopkeepers in British territory adjoining the Banganapalle State will be allowed to tap trees in the State on payment of tree-tax, the rate being the same as in the Kurnool district. Similarly those in the Banganapalle State will be allowed to tap trees in the adjoining British territory. Toddy shopkeepers in British territory adjoining the Pudukkottai State will be allowed to tap trees in that State on payment of tree-tax to that State at the higher of the rates prevailing on both sides of the State frontier.

7. Persons applying for the issue of licences will be responsible to Government for all sums payable as tree-tax on account of the trees licensed to be tapped.

8. (1) On receipt of an application, the Inspector, unless he sees special cause to the contrary, will at once take steps for the marking of the trees by an officer superior in rank to a petty officer and for the issue of the licence. Applicants for trees shall point out to the marking officer, when required by the latter to do so, the trees applied for by them. Should they fail to do so after reasonable notice, the fees paid by them shall be liable to be forfeited at the Collector's discretion.

(2) In the Godavari district, in the Narasapur, Bhimavaram, Tanuku, Ellore and Yernagudem taluks of the Kistna district, and in the Repalle and Sapatlu taluks of the Guntur district, trees intended for the drawing of fermented toddy and those for the drawing of sweet toddy shall, as far as possible, be in separate topes or blocks.

9. Collectors may, from time to time, prescribe the minimum number of trees to be entered in an original application. They may also direct that the trees situated in one village only shall be included in an application.

10. Toddy shall not be drawn from any toddy tree, nor shall any pot be attached to any toddy tree, until the tree has been marked by the proper officer.

11. For palmyra and date trees in the Presidency and for Dadaul (Areca Wightii) trees in South Kanara, tree tapping licences shall be annual, that is, in force from 1st October or any subsequent date to the 30th September immediately following, and for coconut and sago trees they shall be half-yearly, that is, in force from 1st October or any subsequent date to the 31st March immediately following, and from 1st April or any subsequent date to the 30th September immediately following, except in the case of the trees which have been illicitly tapped, on which the full tree-tax may be levied.

12. The following shall be the fees payable on account of each tree for the tapping of which licences is applied for:—

Districts	Coconut palms (for each half-year as defined in rule 11 above).	Sago palms (for each half-year as defined in rule 11 above).	Palmyra or date palms (for the whole year as defined in rule 11 above).	Dadaul (Areca Wightii) palms (for the whole year as defined in rule 11 above).

In the case of 'Kodai Palm' palmyra trees tapped at concession rates in the Tinnevelly subdivision, marking will be allowed from the 25th July. In the case of date trees the process of preparation will be allowed from the 16th September but the incision required for the insertion of the drip leaves will not be allowed before the evening of the 30th September. In no case shall toddy be drawn except during the currency of the licence.

16. All toddy drawn under the tree tapping licences granted in accordance with these rules shall, as soon as the pots containing it are removed from the trees, be immediately conveyed direct to a distillery or a licensed toddy shop under a general transport permit which will be granted gratis by the Inspector. In the South Kanara district when a licensee desires to change the shop to which his toddy is to be taken, the permit will be amended on application and on prepayment of two annas in addition to the court-fee stamp of the value of one anna to be affixed to the application. No toddy drawn under these rules shall be sold otherwise than to a licensed distiller or shopkeeper except at a regularly licensed shop. Tree-foot sales or sales in the open are absolutely prohibited.

17. Between sunset and sunrise no toddy shall be drawn or kept by a person holding a licence under these rules in the garden or field in which stand the trees which he is licensed to tap, except the toddy contained in the pots attached to the spathes of the trees, provided that the Commissioner of Salt, Abkari and Separate Revenue may, on sufficient cause being shown, relax the restriction in any local area.*

* In the Madras Town Circle palmyra and date toddy may be drawn as early as 4 a.m.

NOTIFICATION.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

GENERAL SPECIFICATION FOR ELECTRICAL WORKS IN GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.

MODEL FORM, 1910

Subject to the General and Special Conditions of Contract in force (separately printed, see note on cover).

A.—GENERAL.

1. Wiring rules of the I.E.E.—The installation generally shall be carried out in conformity with the latest edition of the Wiring Rules of the Institution of Electrical Engineers (London), hereinafter referred to as the "I.E.E. Wiring Rules" but, where this Specification or the attached Special Conditions of Contract differ from those rules, the Specification and Special Conditions shall be followed.

2. Definitions and conventional symbols.—The definitions of terms in the I.E.E. Wiring Rules, Seventh Edition, Nos. 4 to 22 (reprinted as Annexure I) shall apply except No. 13. A "point" shall consist of the branch wiring from the branch distribution board, together with a switch if required as far as and including the ceiling rose or wall plug, etc. The attached list of conventional signs and symbols shall be used in all drawings, wiring plans, etc. (Annexure II).

3. Pressure and frequency of supply.—All current consuming devices shall be suitable for the pressure and frequency of supply stated in the Special Conditions of Contract.

4. System of Wiring.—(1) The wiring shall be carried out on such system as may be specified in the Special Conditions of Contract, and, unless otherwise specified in the Special Conditions of Contract, "power" wiring will be kept separate and distinct from lighting wiring. The wiring must be done on the distribution system, with main and branch distribution boards of convenient centres and without isolated fuses. All conductors shall be run as far as possible along the walls and ceiling, so as to be easily accessible and capable of being thoroughly inspected. The balancing of circuits on 3-wire or 5-phase installations shall be arranged beforehand by the Engineer. Circuits on opposite sides of a 3-wire system or on different phases of a 3-phase system should be kept as far as possible apart, where bringing them into the same room is unavoidable.

(2) Within one month of the taking over of the installation the Contractor shall supply to the Engineer a complete set of wiring diagrams of the same, on drawings to be supplied, when available, by the Engineer, and to the satisfaction of the Engineer, and these wiring plans shall be deemed to be "drawings" within the meaning of the term as used in the General Conditions of Contract. (See Special Conditions of Contract.)

5. Conductors.—All conductors to be of copper in accordance with the resolutions of the Engineering Standards Committee as set forth in the I.E.E. Wiring Rules, 7th Edition, No. 67 (vide Annexure I. Except as provided in clause 18, no insulated conductor shall have a cross-section less than that of one No 18 S. W. G. and every such conductor of greater cross-section shall be stranded.*

6. Cables.—(1) All cables, other than flexible cables, unless the contrary is expressly stated in the Special Conditions of Contract, shall be "Association cables" of the British Cable Makers' Association and each coil must be accompanied by the maker's test certificate to that effect, stating the "class" and giving the results of insulation tests. The dielectric to be vulcanized rubber of 250 volt I.E.E. grade (I.E.E. Wiring Rule 16 in Annexure I) unless otherwise specified in the Special Conditions of Contract.

(2) Twin flexible cables shall comply with the I.E.E. Wiring Rules (7th Edition), Nos. 53 to 58 (vide Annexure I.

(3) All taped cables shall have the maker's name or other means of identification, printed on the tape.

7. Fall of potential.—The cross-sectional area of all conductors inside buildings shall be so proportioned to their length that the drop in pressure between the main fuses and the furthest or any lamp shall not exceed 2 per cent with all the consuming devices in use.

8. Rating of lamps and fans.—In estimating the current to be carried by any conductors, glow lamps are to be rated as of 4 and 1·25 watts per candle-power for carbon and metallic filament lamps respectively where the conditions are known, and otherwise at 60 watts, except in the case of gas filled lamps. Ceiling fans are to be rated at 140 watts; table fans at 80 watts; unless actual values are known and specified.

9. Tests.—The installation with fittings complete shall, before current is switched on, satisfactorily pass the following test:—

'The whole of the lamps and appliances having been connected to the conductors, and all switches and fuses being "on," a pressure not less than twice the intended working pressure (subject to a limit of 500 volts) shall be applied and the insulation resistance of the whole or any part of the installation to earth must not be less in megohms than 25 divided by the number of points as defined above. With all lamps and appliances removed from the circuits a similar test between poles may be demanded. Provided that during the rainy season, or in new buildings at any season, half the above test value will be accepted. Where any appliance referred to is a motor larger than one half B. H. P., the insulation resistance of that particular circuit must be greater than 1 megohm.

10. Joints and looping back.—Unless with the sanction of the Engineer all joints in conductors shall be made by means of approved mechanical connectors in suitable and approved joint boxes; but "looping back" is preferable.

11. Switches.—(1) All main switches (other than those of ironclad pattern) carrying over 10 amperes shall be fitted for back connections.

(2) All switches and circuit breakers shall be constructed in accordance with I. E. E. Wiring Rules (7th Edition), No. 96 (vide Annexure I), provided also that springs shall be either of phosphor bronze or, if of steel, shall be copper or nickel-plated; and that handles shall be so fastened that they do not tend to unscrew and become loose. (See also clause 18.)

*During War conditions the provision as to stranded conductors will be relaxed where necessary.

12. Control at point of entry of supply.—There shall be one main switch and one main fuse on each pole of each main circuit (other than the neutral conductor of a 3-wire circuit) at the point of entry of the supply. The switches must be linked unless otherwise specified in the Special Conditions of Contract.

13. Distribution boards.—(1) Main distribution boards shall be of marble or slate, or iron skeleton frames for ironclad switchgear, and shall be provided with a switch and fuse on each pole of each circuit.

(2) Branch distribution boards shall be provided with one fuse on each pole of each circuit. One spare circuit of the same carrying capacity shall be provided on each branch distribution board. No final sub-circuit radiating from a branch board shall carry more than 4 fuses. Incandescent lighting sub-circuits shall comply with the limits specified in I.E.E. Wiring Rule (7th Edition), No. 52; vide Annexure I.

(3) Switches and fuses of opposite polarity shall be mounted on separate bases and the holes for the fixing bolts of the bases shall be bushed.

(4) In wiring a branch distribution board the total number of lamps shall be divided as far as possible evenly between the number ways of the board. The spare circuit shall be left for future extensions.

(5) In the construction and fixing of main and branch distribution boards the following requirements shall be fulfilled:—

(a) A bracket carrying an 8 candle-power lamp shall be fixed over each main board and connected through an independent single pole switch and fuse to the bus bars of the board controlling the lighting circuit. If required by the Special Conditions of Contract a pilot lamp shall be similarly fixed over each branch board.

(b) All fuses shall be of approved type.

(c) Connections shall be arranged as far as possible to form their own diagram.

(d) Connections of all circuits carrying more than 10 amperes shall be made by means of cable sockets.

(f) Two spare fuse carriers per main and branch board shall be supplied for replacements.

(g) All boards (other than those of "ironclad" pattern) shall have strongly made, well finished and approved teak cases with dovetailed corners and shall be painted, varnished or polished as directed by the Engineer, and shall be marked with conspicuous letters or labels, to correspond with the wiring plans [clause 4 (2)].

(h) Except in the case of "ironclad" boards, cases shall have hinged or sliding plate-glass doors with glass not less than $\frac{1}{16}$th inch in thickness, and the doors must be capable of being shut when any switch is either "on" or "off."

(i) Where so required by the Special Conditions of Contract the attachment of cases of branch and small main distribution boards to walls shall be so arranged as to enable the board to be swung from the wall, to allow examination of the back of the panels. Ample room shall be provided behind the board for the neat arrangement of the wires.

(j) Cases for use with conduit or cleated wiring shall be provided with suitable inlets and outlets.

14. (1) Passing through walls.—Except as laid down in clause 62, where conductors pass through walls one of the following alternative methods shall be used:—

(a) A hole of suitable area shall be made in the wall, through which the casing or conductors shall be carried so as to allow of an air space of not less than 1 inch on three sides of the casing or conductors, as the case may be: or

(b) The conductors shall be carried in an approved heavy gauge solid drawn or lapwelded insulated conduit or tube. Where casing wiring is used the ends of the conduit must be neatly entered into the casing and where cleated wiring is used the mouth of each tube shall be bushed with a snapheaded bush. Where the supply is alternating current the conductors of the circuit must be bunched.

(2) Where a wall tube passes outside a building so as to be exposed to the weather, the outer end shall be bell-mouthed and turned downwards.

15. Plugging walls.—Plugs for ordinary walls or ceilings shall be of well seasoned teak or other approved hard wood not less than 2 inches long by 1 inch square on the inner end and 2 inch square on the outer end, except for use with metal-sheathed wiring (see clause 55). They shall be cemented into the walls, to within $\frac{1}{2}$ inch of the surface, the remainder being finished according to the nature of the surface used, with plaster or lime pointing; and to give the cement a hold on the plug, there must be on each of two opposite sides two countersbores not less than $\frac{1}{4}$ inch diameter × $\frac{1}{4}$ inch deep. Unless otherwise similarly specified iron screws may be used for attaching casing to the plugs. Where owing to irregular coursing or other reasons the plugging of the walls or ceiling presents difficulties, the casing, conduit or cleats (as the case may be) shall be attached to the wall or ceiling in a manner approved by the Engineer.

16. Branch switches (see also clause 14).—In installations supplied from a 3-wire system all branch switches shall be placed on the "mains." Switches (other than those for multiple-control) controlling not more than 10 amperes shall be of the tumbler type, and the switch shall be "on" when the handle or knob is down. Where the specified position of branch switches is altered, any such alteration of position, after fixing, will be paid for.

17. Ceiling roses and wall sockets.—Ceiling roses and wall sockets shall not contain fuse terminals. Wall sockets shall comply with the requirements of the British Engineering Standards Committee.

18. Fittings.—Where conductors require to be threaded through tubes or channels formed in the metal work of fittings, these must be free from sharp angles or projecting edges and of such a size as will enable them to be wired with the conductors used for the final sub-circuits without removing the braiding or taping. As far as possible all tubes or channels should be of sufficient size to permit of "looping back." Where, with the approval of the Engineer, "electrolier wire" is used for wiring fittings the sub-circuit leads must terminate in a ceiling rose or connector, from which this will be carried into the fittings. Flexible wire must not be used for wiring fittings, except portable fittings. All fittings must have not less than a ½ inch male nipple. Fittings and lamp-holders for gas filled lamps shall be adequately ventilated.

19. Lamp holders.—Lamp-holders for use on brackets, etc., shall have not less than a ½ inch female nipple, and all those for use with flexible pendants shall be provided with cord grips. All lamp holders shall be provided with shade carriers. All sizes must be solid and substantial, thin cased export type not being admissible. Edison screw holders will not be accepted for lamps below 100 watts.

20. External and Road lamps.—External and road lamps shall have weather-proof fittings of approved design so as effectually to prevent the admission of moisture. An insulating distance piece of moisture-proof material must be inserted between the lamp-holder nipple and that of the fitting. Flexible cord conductors and cord-grip lamp-holders must not be used where exposed to the weather. In verandas and similar exposed situations rod pendants shall be used.

21. Lamps.—(1) All glow lamps, unless otherwise specified in the Special Conditions of Contract, shall be hung at a height of 8 feet above the floor level. Metal filament lamps shall be made of drawn wire only.

(2) When carbon filament lamps are used, they shall comply with the Engineering Standards Committee's specification for carbon filament glow lamps.

22. Fans and Regulators:

(b) The canopy at the top of the suspension rod shall effectually hide the suspension.

(c) The leading in wires shall not smaller than 3/12 S.W.G. and shall be protected from being cut.

(d) All fans shall be free from sparking, noise, oil throwing and excessive heating.

(2) Unless otherwise stated in the Special Conditions of Contract:—

(a) All fans shall be hung 9 feet above the floor.

(b) All fans shall be capable of running continuously at full speed for one month without additional oiling.

(c) Each fan shall have a separate switch.

(d) Each fan shall have a speed regulator, which shall have a cover and an "off" position, and shall be so designed as to be capable of reducing the normal speed of the fan by not less than 60 per cent with all resistance in circuit. The regulator shall be capable of continuous use of any contact without burning or overheating.

23. Attachment of fittings and accessories.—(1) In other than conduit wiring all ceiling roses, wall-sockets, switches, regulators, brackets, pendants and accessories attached to walls or ceilings shall be mounted on substantial teak wood blocks twice varnished after all fixing holes are made in them. Brass screws only are to be used for attaching fittings and accessories to their base blocks.

(2) Unless otherwise specified in the Special Conditions of Contract all attachment blocks shall be spaced from the wall or ceiling by means of moisture proof distance pieces not less than ¼ of an inch thick. The blocks should preferably consist of a hollow base and a cover, to enable the wires to be protected when fittings, etc., are removed during casual repairs.

24. Interchangeability.—Similar parts of all switches, lamp-holders, distributing boards, ceiling roses, brackets, pendants, fans and all other fittings of the same type shall be interchangeable.

B.—Wood Casing Wiring.

25. Material and pattern of casing.—All casing shall be of teak or other approved hard wood, free from knots, shakes, sap or other defects and shall have a smooth finish. The casing shall have a grooved body with a simple rounded or plain moulded cover.

26. Dimension of casing and capping, etc.—The sectional of casing and capping shall be to the satisfaction of the Engineer. The grooves shall be rounded and in no case shall the width of the fillet between the grooves be less than ¼ inch, or the thickness of the back under the grooves or capping over the grooves be less than ¼ inch. Dimensions of grooves shall be such that the wires will not require any force to put them in place. Where capping is attached to casing by screws at the sides, the thickness of the outer wall of the casing shall not be less than ¼ inch.

27. Bunching of circuits.—Wires of opposite polarity shall not be bunched, but wires of the same polarity may, with the permission of the Engineer, be bunched in accordance with I.E.E. Wiring Rule (7th Edition) No 45—vide Annexure I.

28. Attachment of casing to walls and ceilings.—Ordinarily all casing shall be fixed, by means of screws, to plugs at intervals not exceeding 3 feet, arranged as provided for in clause 15. Unless otherwise specified in the Special Conditions of Contract all casing shall be spaced from the walls or ceilings by means of moisture-proof distance pieces not less than ¼ inch thick. All screws shall be so spaced as not to break the wall of the grooves. Casing shall not be barred in walls. When it is ordered that casing shall be partially sunk in a chase in a permanently dry wall, it must be painted externally with at least two coats of oil-paint and be allowed to dry thoroughly before being fixed in position.

29. Passing through floors.—Where conductors pass through floors, the conductor shall be carried in an approved heavy gauge insulated conduit or tube. The floor tubes shall be carried 12 inches above floor line and 1 inch below ceiling line and neatly entered into the casing which shall, if required by the Engineer, be suitably protected at the floor line. Where the supply is alternating current the conductors at the circuit must be bunched in the tube.

30. Joints in casing and capping.—Casing and capping shall be run in lengths as long as possible. All joints shall be scarfed, or cut appreciably in longitudinal section. Capping shall be secured at the joint with two or more screws as may be necessary. Joints in capping must break joint with those in the casing.

31. Conductors carried round mouldings and angles.—In order to avoid carrying casing round wood mouldings or beams, holes should, where practicable, be pierced through the same, provided that the piercing of such holes does not appreciably weaken the structure. A separate hole should be pierced for each groove in the casing. Where casing forms an angle or a wall or ceiling the corners of the grooves must be properly rounded. In all other cases corner pieces with front grooving shall be used at all inside angles, where casing attached to a wall is united to casing attached to a ceiling.

32. Casing to harmonize with decorations.—When wiring is to be carried over ornamental work, with which it is required to harmonize, the design of any special casing which may be necessary shall be submitted to the Engineer for approval. Casing attached to the ceilings shall be carried completely across the ceiling whenever required by the Engineer, instead of being stopped at the fitting; and in all cases where it is required by the Engineer, dummy casing must be used.

33. Attachment of capping.—Capping shall be attached to casing by round-headed brass screws placed in each edge at intervals not exceeding 12 inches in all sizes of and above 1¼ inch in width, and along the centre in smaller sizes. In casing having more than two grooves, screws, for fixing the capping, shall be placed in the fillets between the conductors as well as in the outer walls of the casing, if so required by the Engineer.

34. Painting and varnishing.—All casing and capping shall be served before erection, internally and on the back, with two coats of varnish made up of not less than 1 lb. of pure shellac per gallon of spirit. In addition, all casing together with capping after erection shall be finished, painted or varnished in such manner as may be ordered by the Engineer.

35. Inspection.—Unless with the sanction of the Engineer, capping shall not be put on until the work has been inspected with the wires in position, and approved by the Engineer. This inspection will be done from time to time as the work progresses, on the application of the contractor.

O.—Conduit Systems.

36. Conduit to be continuous.—Conduit shall be heavy gauge solid-drawn or lapwelded of approved pattern and manufacture, and in accordance with the specification of the British Engineering Standards Committee. It shall be supplied with or without an insulating lining as may be specified in the Special Conditions of Contract. The conduits shall be electrically continuous from distribution board to outlet boxes for fittings, switches and other appliances. No conduit tube less than six-tenths inch in diameter, measured inside the metal tube or insulating lining, shall be used.

37. Bunching of wires.—The wires of a circuit may be bunched together in a conduit and, if the supply is alternating current, they shall be bunched.

38. Junctions in conduit.—The lengths of conduit shall be joined by means of screwed sockets. Threads shall be free from grease or oil and no material of this nature shall be allowed to come in contact with the conductors. The greatest care shall be taken in preparing the conduit that no sharp edges or burrs are left which may damage the insulation. The Engineer, with a view to ensuring that the above proviso has been carried out, may require (if he should consider it necessary) that the separate lengths of conduit, etc., after they have been prepared, shall be submitted for inspection before being fixed.

39. Precaution against insects and damp.—In order to minimise condensation or sweating inside the tubes, all outlets of conduit systems shall be properly drained and ventilated, but in such a manner as to prevent the entry of insects.

40. Insulating lining of tubes.—Where insulating conduit is to be used the lining shall be firmly secured to the tube and shall not be less than one-sixteenth inch in thickness. The insulating material must not soften injuriously at any temperature below 212° Fahrenheit and must be composed of such materials as will not have a deteriorating effect on the dielectric of the conductor; it must be sufficiently tough and tenacious to withstand the abrasion test of drawing in and out long lengths of conductor from a length of tube. All bends and fittings shall be made so that neither the conduit nor the lining of the same will be injured when drawing in wires.

41. Protection of conduit against rust.—The outer surfaces of conduits including all bends, unions, tees, junction boxes, etc., forming part of the conduit system shall be protected from rust by being galvanized or sherardized, or by two coats of iron oxide paint, applied before they are fixed. If so required by the Engineer, all conduits shall be painted after fixing, in such manner as may be directed.

42. Fixing of conduit.—The conduit shall be fixed to the surface of walls, secured to pipes, arranged as in clause 45, by saddles and round-headed screws. No conduit shall be buried beneath the surface of masonry unless so specified in the Special Conditions of Contract or approved by the Engineer.

43. Bends in conduits.—The conduits shall be brought round angles of walls by means of bends or inspection elbows as may be directed. Angles on the face of the wall shall be arranged for by means of cast-iron inspection boxes, with suitable inlet and outlet sockets and screwed joints. Each box shall be provided with a cover, properly secured, by means of which access to the conductor may be obtained. The radius on the inner side of any bend shall not be less than 3 inches and no length of conduit shall have more than the equivalent of four quarter bends from outlet to outlet, the bends at the outlets not being counted.

44. Outlets.—All outlets for fittings, switches, etc., shall be equipped with an approved outlet box.

45. Conductors.—All conductors used in conduit wiring shall be stranded.

46. Erection and earthing of conduit.—The whole system of conduit shall be erected and completed before the conductors are drawn in. The whole metal system of the conduit shall be electrically continuous throughout and shall be permanently and efficiently connected to earth in general conformity with the method laid down in clause 25; gas or water pipes must not be used to obtain an earth connexion. Not less than the equivalent (solid or stranded) of one No. 8 S. W. G. copper wire shall be used for making an earth connexion. In a conduit system the pipe must be continuous when passing through walls or floors, and no other form of insulating or protecting tube is required.

D.—CLEATED WIRING SYSTEM

47. Accessibility.—All cleated wiring shall be run as far as practicable so as to be visible and accessible.

48. Cleats.—All cleats shall be of porcelain of approved design and must consist of two parts, a base piece and a cap. A special pattern of cleat should be used if necessary where conductors pass round corners, so that there may be no risk of the conductors touching the walls owing to sagging or stretching. Cleats shall be fixed at distances not greater than 3 feet apart and at regular intervals. There must be no apparent sag on the conductors.

49. Fixing of cleats.—(1) In ordinary cases, cleats shall be attached to plugs arranged as provided for in clause 15.

(2) Where practicable the same method shall be adopted in the case of stone walls, but when, owing to irregular coursing or other reasons, it is impracticable to fix the cleats in a regular and workmanlike manner, a wood batten shall be provided and fixed with not less than one plug per four-feet run. The batten shall be of teak or other suitable hard wood, ½ inch thick, and one inch wider than the cleat used; it shall be chamfered on the edges, wrought all over and varnished with two coats of varnish (prepared as specified in clause 34), or painted, as may be ordered by the Engineer.

(3) Where reasons exist which prevent the use of either plugs or battens, cleats must be attached to the wall or ceiling in a manner approved by the Engineer.

50. Distance apart of wires.—(1) For pressures up to 250 volts cleats shall be of such dimensions that, in the case of branch leads, conductors shall not be less than 1 inch apart, centre to centre; in the case of sub-mains, not less than 1½ inches apart, centre to centre; in the case of mains, not less than 2½ inches apart, centre to centre:

Provided that this sub-clause shall not apply to twin conductors used with the approval of the Engineer.

(2) Where the pressure exceeds 250 volts cleated wiring shall only be used under such conditions as may be laid down by the Engineer in the Special Conditions of Contract.

51. Crossing of conductors.—Where cleated conductors cross each other they may be either looped over to maintain the prescribed distance or fixed to an insulating bridging piece, which will rigidly maintain a separation of at least one-half inch between the poles. If the point of crossing be within 10 feet of the ground or floor level, an insulating bridging piece must be used.

Provided that this clause shall not apply to twin conductors used with the approval of the Engineer.

52. Protection near floors.—No cleat wiring shall be left unprotected within 5 feet of a floor. When brought through the floor it shall be enclosed in conduit in the manner specified in clause 29.

54. Attachment to walls and ceilings.—All conductors shall be supported on walls and ceilings at intervals not exceeding 9 inches horizontally and one foot vertically, and special clips, fixed by screws or suitable pins to the plugs, shall be used for their attachment. The heads of such screws or pins shall be set level with the surface of the clips, so as not to injure the metal sheathing. The clips shall be of such character as not to lead to corrosion or electrolytic action from contact. Saddles may only be used if specified in the Special Conditions of Contract. No bend shall have a radius of less than 3 inches.

55. Plugs.—Wooden plugs used for metal sheathed wiring under the above conditions shall not be less than 1½ inches long, and ½ inch in diameter on the outer end. With the Engineer's permission, Rawl or other special plugs may be used. In other respects clause 15 shall apply.

56. Wiring on rolled steel joists.—Where wiring is to be carried along the face of rolled steel joists a wooden backing, preferably the full width of the joist, shall first be laid on the joist, and chipped to it as inconspicuously as possible. The wiring shall be fixed to this backing in the ordinary way.

57. Spacing off walls.—Unless otherwise stated in the Special Conditions of Contract all metal-sheathed wiring run on plastered walls shall be spaced ¼ inch off the plaster.

58. Joints.—Joints shall be made by means of connectors of porcelain, or other approved material, enclosed in joint boxes approved by the Engineer. The joint boxes shall be so constructed as to prevent moisture entering them, and to allow of the whitewashing of the walls without water having access to the connectors. All wires shall be bonded through or across these boxes. Bending connexions shall be so arranged as not to come in contact with plaster.

59. Stripping of insulation.—(1) When V.I.R., insulation has to be stripped for joints, etc., the metal-sheathing must be nicked only, not cut, and the insulation between the metal sheath and the conductor shall be of rubber only. All tape shall be stripped off.

(2) Where paper-insulated, metal-sheathed cable is used all openings in the same shall be efficiently sealed.

60. Protection of wiring.—(1) When so required by the Special Conditions of Contract, metal-sheathed wiring must be covered with a sheet metal protective covering, to protect it from damage, and the base of the protective covering shall be flush with the plaster or brickwork, as the case may be.

(2) Such protective covering shall in all cases be fitted on all down drops within such distance from the floor as may be specified in the Special Conditions of Contract.

61. Passing through floors.—All wires taken through floors shall be enclosed in an insulated heavy gauge steel conduit, extending 6 inches above the floor and flush with the ceiling below, or protected in such other manner as the Engineer shall approve. The ends of all conduits or pipes shall be neatly bushed with porcelain, wood or other approved material.

62. Passing through walls.—The method to be adopted shall be either that laid down in clause 14 (1) (a) or shall be similar to that in clause 51, the conduit to extend 1 inch beyond the wall on either side, if the wire is taken through the wall straight; and to be flush with the wall if the course of the wire is at right angles to the wall.

63. Buried wires.—Metal-sheathed wire shall in no case be buried directly in plaster.

64. Metal sheathing to be bonded and earthed.—All metal-sheathing shall be well bonded throughout the whole of its length and efficiently connected with earth and shall pass the test specified in clause 67. The earthing shall extend to the metal frames of all main and branch switch and distribution boards.

65. Earth wire and Plates.—(1) The earthing wire and the connexion with earth shall be of the same metal, whether iron or copper, and shall be so constructed and laid as to avoid the formation of any electrolytic couple.

(2) The size of the earthing wire shall be not less than No. 8 S.W.G. or equivalent stranded cable. For the portion in the ground the size of the earthing wire shall not be less than No. 6 S.W.G. solid wire.

The Standard Barometer and Thermometers are read at 4 a.m., 10 a.m., 4 p.m. and 8 p.m., and the daily means are obtained by the application of hourly corrections, deduced from twenty years' observations. The cistern of the Barometer is twenty-two feet above the level of the sea, and the receiver of the rain-gauge is two feet from the ground. The wind, rain and general weather registered are for the current civil day—from midnight to midnight.

The total quantity of rain collected since January 1st is 8·65 inches, the average due for the same period being 7·92 inches.

SALT, ABKARI AND CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATION.

No. 22, dated 23rd June 1919.

NOTICE OF SALE OF ABKARI PRIVILEGES.

Notice is hereby given that the privilege of sale of toddy in independent shops in the tree-tax areas of the Presidency including the Banganapalle State and the toddy farms of 122 villages of the Parlakimedi Maliahs of the Ganjam district will be put up to auction subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth. The period for which the privileges will be sold will be twelve months commencing 1st October 1919 and ending 30th September 1920. The number of shops and farms, the local limits appointed for them and the dates on which the places at which and the officers by whom the auction sales will be conducted will be notified by Collectors in their District Gazettes. The Collector of Ganjam will notify separately the special conditions applicable to the toddy farms in his district. A separate notification will be issued regarding spirituous under the tree-tax system.

Conditions of Auction Sale.

I. A deposit must be made by each bidder before bidding and will be received by the selling officer on the day of sale. A deposit of Rs. 50 will ordinarily be required from any person wishing to bid for any important shop or any large number of shops. This will be reduced to Rs. 20 in the case of bidders for not more than two or three shops of an aggregate monthly value of Rs. 30 or less and to Rs. 5 in the case of bidders for single small shops. In the Kurnool district, the selling officer may, where he finds it necessary, require a deposit of Rs. 10 from bidders for toddy shops. In the South Kanara district, the selling officer may, at his discretion, reduce the deposit to Rs. 2 for shops whose average monthly rental does not exceed Rs. 2. In the case of farms Rs. 100 will be the ordinary deposit. This will be reduced to Rs. 50 in the case of bidders for farms of an aggregate monthly rental of not more than Rs. 100 and to Rs. 10 in the case of bidders for single small farms.

II. The shops or farms will be put up to auction in the order in which they are notified, unless the selling officer sees reason to change that order. Upset prices will be fixed at the discretion of the Collectors. The reserve price placed by Government on the shops or farms will not be published, but the average of the previous five years' rentals will be notified by the Collectors, wherever possible, for the information of bidders.

III. No person will be allowed to bid for another unless he holds a power of attorney from him.

IV. The officer conducting the sale may, at his discretion, refuse to accept the bid of any person on the ground (1) that he has been convicted by a Criminal Court or has previously been guilty of such a breach of the conditions of licence or of a contract under the Abkari or Opium Act as to render him undesirable as a holder of a licence; or (2) that he is insolvent or in arrears to Government; (3) that his bid is purely speculative; (4) that he is a village officer or a relative of a village officer of the village in which the shop is situated or which is supplied by the shop, or of a neighbouring village; (5) that he is a contract supplier of country spirits for the contract area within which the shop is situated; (6) that he is a lessee holding for beer shops; (7) that such a course is necessary to prevent arrangements to the detriment of Government interests; or (8) for any other valid reason.

V. The shops will be knocked down to the highest bidder. If for any of the reasons mentioned in the preceding clause the highest bid is rejected, the next highest shall be taken or the shop resold at the selling officer's discretion. In case of dispute the selling officer's decision shall be final. The sale will be subject to formal confirmation of the Collector, who shall be at liberty to accept or reject any bid at his discretion. Such formal confirmation will be tantamount to an acceptance of the bid, unless revised by the Board of Revenue for special reasons, and will be necessary whether the sale be held by the Collector himself or by any officer appointed by him.

VI. At the close of each day's sale, the deposits made by the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them. As the auction proceeds, each person whose bid is accepted shall at once, if so required by the selling officer, or otherwise at the close of the day's sale, make a further deposit of half a month's rent (in addition to the deposit made under clause I) for each shop or farm unless the initial deposit equals or exceeds two months' rent. Should he fail to do so, the deposit made by him under clause I will be forfeited and the shop or farm will be put up again immediately by the selling officer on the above conditions or otherwise disposed of by the Collector and the defaulter will be debarred from bidding again for the same or for any other shop or farm.

VII. Any person to whom a shop or farm has been knocked down and who has made deposits as provided in clauses I and VI shall also deposit, in cash or approved security, within two days from the date of communication of the Collector's acceptance of the bid, such further sum as with the former deposits will make up two months' rent and shall without unnecessary delay take out a licence on the conditions hereinafter set forth. In the event of the purchaser's death after issue of the licence, his heirs and assigns shall be responsible for all moneys that may become due to Government under the terms of the licence as well as for the proper observance of all the conditions of the licence. Should the initial deposit exceed two months' rental, the excess will be refunded unless the purchaser is requested to deposit twice that sum under clause VIII infra.

VIII. If on enquiry subsequent to sale the purchaser shall be found to be of doubtful solvency, he may be required either to deposit two months' rental in addition to the sum prescribed in clause VII supra, or to get a surety or sureties to execute a security bond for the due payment of all moneys that may become due by him under the terms of the contract. The bond shall be stamped (article 57, Schedule I, Act II of 1899) and registered at the expense of the purchaser if the amount secured exceeds Rs. 1,000. In all cases where sureties are demanded the licensee shall be bound to execute a counterpart agreement.

IX. On the failure of any person to make a deposit or take out a licence under clause VII or to comply with any requisition or to execute any engagement under clause VIII supra, the deposits already made may be forfeited and the shop or farm may be resold under the orders of the Divisional Officer on a date to be notified by the Collector or may be otherwise disposed of by the latter officer. Resales under this clause will be at the risk of the defaulting bidder, who will forfeit all gain, and in the event of a loss, will be required to make good the deficiency between the total amount payable for the whole period under the terms of the original sale and the total amount payable by the successful bidder at the resale. In the latter case, the forfeited deposits will be deducted from the loss arising from the resale, and the remainder, if any, will be recoverable in the same manner as if it were an arrear of land revenue. Should, however, the forfeited deposits be greater than the loss by resale, the whole of such deposits will be credited to Government. The defaulting bidder will be similarly liable if the shop or farm is disposed of otherwise than by resale and such disposal results in loss to Government as compared with the original sale.

X. The purchaser of any abkari or opium privilege is liable to the penalties prescribed for breaches of the conditions set forth below, though a formal licence may not have been issued to him.

XI. The deposits referred to in clause VII or VIII may be made either in cash or in recognized Government, Port Trust, Municipal or Local Board securities or by depositing Postal Savings Bank pass-books. When deposits are made otherwise than in cash, the Collector may demand that they shall be of such higher face value than the cash deposit required, as in the circumstances of the market he may think necessary. The securities or Savings Bank pass-books deposited must be endorsed in the name of the Collector and Government promissory notes must be enfaced for payment of interest at the treasuries at which they are deposited, if so required. Deposits in cash will be adjusted towards the instalments of kists due in the last months of the period of the lease. Deposits of securities or savings bank pass-books will be returned upon payment of the full amount of the kists due in cash unless the depositors wish that Government should take them over, in which case they will be taken over at the price of the day, and the balance, if any, due to Government must be paid in cash. In cases of default under clause IX of the conditions of auction sale or under condition 37 of the General Conditions applicable to all Abkari and Opium licences, all securities deposited are liable to be sold for any amount due to Government under the terms of the lease, the remainder, if any, due after such sale, being recovered as arrears.

General Conditions applicable to all Abkari and Opium Licences.

1. Shops and depots must be opened by the dates fixed by the Collectors and must be kept open every day unless their temporary or permanent closure is authorised under condition 10, 11 or 41 infra.

2. Except where definite sites in the possession or under the control of Government have been prescribed, purchasers of shops must make their own arrangements for securing proper sites for their shops. They are at liberty to choose any site within the local limits notified by the Collector, provided the site selected is approved of by the Revenue and Police authorities. The limits of the site selected and approved will be entered in the licence. The possession (except subject to the rules applicable to unlicensed persons) or sale of liquor, opium or intoxicating drugs outside those limits is prohibited.

3. Sales under any abkari or opium licence must be conducted in an approved building of which the whole or the whole of a separable part must be entirely set aside for use as a depot or shop. In the case of arrack shops and taverns in municipalities, or towns having a population of 20,000 or over, there shall be no possible means of ingress or egress in any direction except into the main street; if there are other doors they shall be kept locked under the seal of an officer of the Salt, Abkari and Customs Department; the interior of the shop shall be sufficiently lighted by day and the whole interior visible from the front door; the shop shall not be used as a place of residence save by the vendor and his family or caretakers. If there are means of communication between the depot or shop and an adjoining dwelling house, they must be kept locked at night.

4. Except when two or more foreign liquor licences are held by one person or in the case of licences held by chemists and druggists and medical practitioners, sales under different licences must be conducted in different premises.

5. Private bars in liquor shops may be allowed by the Collector under a special licence to be granted by him free of fee; provided that the interior of the bar is wholly visible from the doorway and that the entrance to it is either through the main door of the shop or through a separate door provided with a proper sign to show the nature of the bar.

6. A signboard must be affixed to the front of each depot or shop showing the nature and number of the licence under which sales are conducted there, the name of the licensee and (except in the case of foreign liquor) the current rate of sale. These particulars must be legibly painted in the local vernacular and in the case of taverns and wholesale depots in English also. The licence must be hung up in a conspicuous place within the depot or shop.

7. The possession upon any licensed premises of any liquor, opium or intoxicating drugs except that to which the licence relates or of any essence or substance used or capable of being used for colouring or flavouring liquor except in accordance with the terms of a compounding licence is prohibited.

8. Such supply of liquor, opium or intoxicating drugs as the Collector may consider sufficient to meet local requirements must be maintained in depots and shops.

9. No arrack shop, foreign liquor tavern or beer shop and none of the toddy shops opened for the supply of toddy to the Salem town shall be opened before 9-30 a.m. No other shop or depot shall be opened before sunrise.

10. (a) No depot or shop shall be kept open after 9 p.m. except under special authority. Collectors may at their discretion order the closure of any depot at sunset and may on the report of the Police or for other sufficient reasons order the closure of any shop or an earlier hour if they consider such a course to be advisable in the interests of the public. The Board may for sufficient reasons order the general closure of any kind or kinds or all kinds of licensed premises at any earlier hour than 8 p.m.

(b) Collectors are authorised to notify at the time of the auction sales that specified shops will be closed on the occasion of specified festivals and that the hours of sale at specified shops which are situated within a mile of a market or shandy will be limited on market days generally or that they will be liable to limitation on such occasions by orders issued during the currency of the lease, if it is found that the shops promote drunkenness. Discretion is also allowed to Collectors to order the closure of specified shops within 3 furlongs of factories, mills and other places where large numbers of operatives assemble on week days from 11-30 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. on the afternoons of pay days and at all hours on Sundays except between 11-30 a.m. and 4 p.m. A special condition embodying these restrictions or liabilities will be inserted by the Collector in the licences granted to the renters of all such shops.

11. Depots and shops situated on or adjacent to line of march must be closed, if the Collector so orders, while a regiment or detachment of soldiers is passing or is encamped in the vicinity. Collectors or Divisional Officers shall have power also temporarily to close any shops in times of religious excitement or disturbance. Every depot and shopkeeper shall on the motion close his depot or shop when there is a riot or disturbance in the neighbourhood.

12. All liquor, opium and intoxicating drugs sold or kept for sale shall be of good quality and unadulterated. Nothing shall be added to liquor, opium or intoxicating drugs either to increase their intoxicating power or for any other purpose. This prohibition, however, does not apply to the compounding or blending of liquor or to the manufacture of intoxicating drugs from hemp drugs and opium in accordance with the terms of a licence. Liquor shall not be bottled except under a bottling licence. Nor shall different kinds of liquors be mixed and sold under the designation of one of them.

13. No woman shall be employed in any abkari or opium shop for the sale of liquor, opium or intoxicating drugs without the special permission of the Collector unless she be a member of the renter's family.

14. The sale or transport of liquor, opium or intoxicating drugs by persons below the age of 18 or by persons suffering from leprosy or any contagious disease and the employment in any capacity of such persons in shops or depots licensed for the sale of the same are prohibited. No persons who have been convicted under the Indian Penal Code shall be employed in the transport or sale of liquor, opium or intoxicating drugs without the Collector's previous permission. The Divisional Officer may, where necessary, call for the names of all persons employed or proposed to be employed in any depot or shop and forbid the sale of liquor, opium or intoxicating drugs by any person of whom he may disapprove.

15. No liquor, opium or intoxicating drug shall be sold or given—

(a) Except at shops specially approved by the General Officer Commanding the Division (or Independent Brigade) or the Officer Commanding the Cantonment or Camp, and then only in respect of such liquors as shall be approved by the same authority in consultation with the local Excise authorities and specified in the licence—

(1) to sailors of the Royal Navy, soldiers and members of their families; or

(2) to any other person living in barracks;

(b) (1) to persons whom a vender knows, or has reason to believe, to be camp followers, i.e., any class of followers (other than private servants) whether on or off duty, who have a right to be in cantonments;

(2) to Policemen, Excise officers and Railway servants when on duty; or,

(c) in any circumstances to any—

(1) European vagrant under escort of the Police;

(2) child or young person under eighteen years of age;

(3) insane person; or

(4) person known or believed to be intoxicated.

Note.—The restrictions in (a) and (b) do not apply to soldiers, their families and followers when they are absent on leave from their regiments.

16. No liquor, opium or intoxicating drug shall be sold in shops except for cash. The licensee shall be bound to give intimation of the offer of anything other than cash to the nearest Magistrate or Police officer. This condition is not, however, meant to restrict credit sales in the ordinary course of business by shopkeepers or firms of standing and respectability dealing in foreign liquor for consumption off the premises.

17. No liquor, opium or intoxicating drug shall be sold either below or above such [minimum * or maximum † prices as may be fixed for sale of the same in accordance with the law for the time being in force.

* For liquor shops—vide Board's Notification No. 3, dated 21st January 1919.

† For opium shops in the Agency tracts of the Ganjam, Vizagapatam and Godavari districts a uniform rate of 12 annas a tola has been fixed.

18. In the case of arrack, toddy, ganja and beer shops and taverns, this power will be exercised by Tahsildars or Deputy Tahsildars in independent charge, in the case of opium shops by Divisional Officers and in other cases by Collectors. In the event of suspension of a licence for failure to pay arrears, the privilege of sale will be resold with effect from the date of issue of the licence to the new purchaser or otherwise disposed of at the Collector's discretion. All losses on account of suspension and resale or other disposal of the privilege shall be borne by the defaulting licensee, but he shall have no right to any gain which may accrue. 30. Licensees are bound to report to the Divisional Officer all instances which come to their knowledge of persons employed by them in the manufacture, transport or sale of liquor, opium or intoxicating drugs, committing breaches of the Abkari / Opium laws and to comply with the Divisional Officer's orders respecting the continued employment of such persons.

31. Pecuniary dealings by licensees of any kind whatever with officials of the Salt, Abkari and Customs Department are absolutely prohibited.

or (b) cancellation of licence and resale or other disposal of the privilege at the risk of the licensee and, if considered necessary by the Collector, forfeiture of deposits; or (c) prosecution of the licensee or his agent for the specific offense committed.

The rent for the whole lease shall become due at once, when a lease is cancelled under this condition.

NOTE.—For continuing breaches of a license, continuing fines may be imposed.

38. Any license may be forfeited and the privilege be resold or otherwise disposed of at the risk of the licensee if the licensee be convicted before a Magistrate of any offence against the Abkári Act, or of any offence under the Indian Penal Code, which in the Collector's opinion renders Opium him unfit to hold it, or if it is brought to the notice of the Collector that the licensee has been convicted prior to the issue of a licence to him before a Magistrate of any of such offences and has concealed that fact.

39. Any sum due by a licensee may be adjusted from the deposit, if any, made by him or collected under the Revenue Recovery Act as an arrear of land revenue. The licensee shall be bound to replace any sum adjusted from his deposit within fifteen days of receipt of notice from the Tahsildar or Deputy Tahsildar in independent charge.

40. Interest on all moneys due shall be payable at the rate of 6 per cent per annum.

41. Collectors may order the transfer of depots and shops from one locality to another or their closure or the opening of new depots and shops within limits as to number to be fixed by the Board of Revenue in their discretion. But no new shops should be opened unless notice of the sites selected has been published in the District Gazette six months before the commencement of the lease and no such changes as affect the interest of adjacent shopkeepers shall be made during the currency of a lease except under special sanction of the Board. A Tahsildar may at any time permit the transfer of a shop within the limits notified for the shop in the sale notice.

42. The right is reserved to the Collector to grant 'occasional licences' for the sale of liquor, opium and intoxicating drugs, on the occurrence of fairs, festivals, etc., in places in the vicinity of which there are no regularly licensed shops. Such licences should be issued only when absolutely necessary and shall ordinarily be granted to the shopkeepers who usually supply the locality or to rented areas to his representatives of the renter. The licenses shall run only for such period not exceeding two days as they are actually required. Not more than one license shall be issued for a fair or festival without the sanction of the Board.

The fees to be paid for the licences shall be fixed at the discretion of the Collector.

Conditions applicable to Toddy Licences.

1. The privilege conferred extends only to the sale of toddy.

2. Toddy required for sale should be drawn under separate tree-tapping licences to be obtained under the tree-tax rules from toddy trees in the tract in which the shop is situated or in any other tract in which the rates of tree tax are not lower, subject to the discretion of the officer granting transport permits.

3. No toddy except the produce of trees, for the tapping of which a licence has been issued, shall be kept in the shop, offered for sale or sold.

4. The Collector will fix the minimum number of trees to be entered in original applications for tree-tapping licences.

5. The licence confers no right to the free use of any trees.

6. Arrangements for tapping private trees must be made with the owners thereof and tree-tax at the prescribed rates paid thereon.

7. The licensee shall be responsible to Government for all payments of instalments of fees due on account of tree-tapping licences granted on his application in his own name or in the names of his nominees under the conditions set forth therein and in the rules relating thereto.

8. Toddy may be imported from His Exalted Highness the Nizam's Dominions for sale in toddy shops in the Bellary district on payment of a duty of two and a half annas per gallon.

9. Toddy shopkeepers in British districts adjoining Mysore, Banganapalle and Pudukkottai will be allowed to tap trees in those States on payment of tree-tax into British treasuries in the case of Mysore and Banganapalle and into the State treasury in the case of Pudukkottai.

10. The addition of water to and the distillation of spirits from toddy are absolutely prohibited.

11. No sweet toddy, even if it be the produce of marked trees on which tree-tax has been paid, shall be kept or sold in the shop, nor shall any sweet toddy be mixed or allowed to be mixed with fermented toddy drawn from trees marked for the shop either in the shop or outside it.

12. In addition to the restrictions imposed by general conditions (2) and (14) the following restrictions will be imposed in respect of the area of shops and number of compartments and sellers in the districts named.
